

LAB REPORT RUBRIC *

Section	Points
Title & Author describes lab content concisely, adequately & appropriately Introduction successfully establishes scientific concept of lab effectively presents objectives & purpose of report states hypothesis & provides logical reasoning for it Methods
gives enough details to allow for replication of procedure Results opens with effective statement of overall findings presents visuals clearly & accurately presents verbal findings clearly & with sufficient support successfully integrates verbal & visual representations Discussion/Conclusion opens with effective statement of support of hypothesis backs up statement with reference to appropriate findings provides sufficient & logical explanation for statement of hypothesis sufficiently addresses other issues pertinent to lab convincingly describes what has been learned in lab Presentation
citations & references adhere to proper format format of tables & figures is correct report is written in scientific style, i.e., clear & to point grammar & spelling correct Overall, the student: has successfully learned what lab is designed to teach accurately measures & analyzes data for lab findings Total (100 possible)

* Adapted from LabWrite at www.ncsu.edu